9:50 a.m. Volunteering - The New World of Volunteers – Brenda Robinson, The Robcan Group.
In today's busy, busy world it is challenging to find enough volunteers to keep our communities doing what they do best. What can we do to get more volunteers?

Explore 10 strategies for recruiting and retaining volunteers in this new fast paced, device driven world we live in. We can no longer just expect people to volunteer. Let's influence them to volunteer because of the advantages we can all experience when we volunteer in our communities.

Brenda is the President of The Robcan Group, an innovative training, consulting, and human resource development company. They work at the community level to address program needs in recreation, sport, and culture, and has supported numerous communities to successfully engage and facilitate volunteers with its innovative approach. Brenda is part of the team working on the Plan 2045 project with GCWCC.

10:50 am Networking Break – Light lunch will be available during the workshop.
